SEWING MACHINE.

We would call attention to the following facts in connection with this Machine, which renders it superior to any other in use:

It forms a flat elastic seam, which will not rip in wear.

It is entirely noiseless.

A patented device prevents its being turned backwards.

The needle cannot be set wrong.

Can be used successfully without other instruction than accompany the Machine.

It received the Gold Medal of the American Institute in 1863. For particulars, enquire of

Letter from Ruby City

RUBY CITY, June 30th, 186[illegible]

I left Portland June 6th, 1865, with the view of visiting Owyhee or any other place that might hold out inducements for the maintenance of my blessed family, at the least possible expense, without regard to climate or such blessings attendant on the adventurer, as fevers, rheumatism &c. Like Cæsar, I was for bettering my fortune. Like Job, the essential attributes of patience were waiting, and as I shook my friend by the hand while the last bell was proclaiming "all aboard," I suffered and was strong. The trip was a pleasant one to Wallula, scraping acquaintances as it is termed, with so and so, and looking indignant on those unworthy of the same. Arrived at Wallula, from there took stage to Walla Walla, and was informed this last was Indian or Egyptian for "Valley of many waters," a refreshing explanation to one bordering on romance, distance 30 miles—fare $. Arrived at this last named place about 4 P. M. Horses were either scarce, or the proprietor of the Oriental Hotel was connected with the stage company; stopped at the Oriental for the night, being a drain on my finances; slept in a small room with innumerable tenants termed "roaches," looked aghast, but with that presence of mind for which I am so distinguished, moved at once upon their ranks, was outflanked on my left wing; gave it up after throwing an Oregonian, quartered, and two San Francisco Bulletins in sundry apertures through which the enemy in retreated, divested myself of boots, hat and coat, and retired for the night, after venting maledictions on the tribe, landlord included; paid in the morning; $1 for the pleasure above experienced (another drain on my finances); shook hands with the landlord, merely to carry out the example of Christianity, by "loving our enemies," although, internally I wished for three [illegible] of the money back. Got into the stage again and started for Warm Springs, kept by Kelly; Kelly labored under many disadvantages; house being in a primitive condition without apertures for light, and but one opening for a door; had I been a felon I could, with the strictest regard for truth, have testified that that was my future residence, provided by a beneficent government. Kelly has no beds, blankets in abundance however. Distance from Warm Springs back to Walla Walla, thirty miles. Knew that Kelly, from our stoppage over night, must own the entire stage route. Sat down to supper, no light at first, took a seat at table and struck out indiscriminately, in order to appease a wretched appetite, thrust fork in a northerly direction, punctured apple sauce, tasted fork, found it sweet, and struck out again, west by north, brought up against pepper sauce bottle; light was then brought when the halo of Kelly's glory shone forth—beefsteak and onions, with preliminaries. The locality of this place is an admirable one, and bears some affinity to a remote region; you can smell sulphur, and drink the same in solution. No man in this section, as I was informed, ever scratched himself after a sojourn of twenty-four hours with Kelly—a Scotchman would consider it a heaven of bliss; retired for the night up stairs where the roof was in close proximity to the floor, and left a portion of my scalp on a projecting nail, protruding through the roof. I arose, breakfasted, and suffered a further drain on my finances, to the amount of three dollars—anxiety of mind, as to getting through for want of means, started for Union town, 49 miles distant, situated in the south end of Grand Ronde. At Kelly's we left our Concord wagon, and took passage in one of the most remarkable vehicles it was ever my lot to behold, no top to it, and well adapted for public speaking on a down grade, it had been raised from time to time, or as the peculiar state of the roads suggested to the driver and Kelly. It was evidently constructed on principles entirely unknown at the present day; adapting itself to every emergency that arose, the hinder portion capsizing without apparent cause, while the front retained its position; a desire on my part to fathom such unnatural phenomena was frustrated for want of time, but it appeared one mass of vertebra, as it was capable of assuming any position without warning to the occupants in the least period of time. We crossed the Umatilla forty nine times, demonstrating to my satisfaction that the road was a tortuous one and the river very straight, arrived at Umatilla, stopped at "Staunton House," proprietor a noble fellow, met us at the door with a "pocket pistol," I fired once, thus saving two bits, and like Paul "taking courage." This city boasts of maintaining two hotels, one defunct whisky shop, one meat market, three stores of different calibers, and innumerable "out-houses," conveying to the stranger unmistakable evidences that the citizens in general are in a debilitated state from excess of cathartics, the population consists of seven dogs of diversified colors and breeds, singles and mankind in general, delighted with present and future prospects of this place, shook hands with Staunton next morning, and left for Powder river after another drain of $3; arrived at Powder river and spent two days in examining this region; my company proved so delightful and instructive that no charge whatever was made for board and lodging, and I have only to regret ever having left such a spot, being admirably in unison with my feelings as regarded the financial department. I left that spot with indescribable emotions thanking my stars that those men were not as other men; stage in the distance appearing, took my carpet-bag, grasped the hand of my friend and rushed out; saw a woman on the seat with the driver; was astonished, and gazed in admiration; stage stopped, thought he might be the called "Prophet of Khorassan"; was not positive; curtain of stage down; raised them and entered; I now found myself in Chinatown; four Chinamen and one white man of ungainly appearance, besides myself, the Chinamen were of different calibers, one remarkably lean, his neighbor the reverse, one medium and the other personifying the majority, and bearing strong resemblance to a "terrier." No. [illegible] exhibited great vitality as well as vivacity in retaining his position in the seat, from which I inferred he was endeavoring to raise himself and soul upwards to the detriment of his companions; began to rain; driver stopped, and my female descended, and after taking a good wholesome look at me, entered Chinatown. I felt pleased at this manifestation of her regard for myself; many would have supposed that a disinclination on her part to get drenched with rain induced her to take this step; I did not. After shaking herself well in order to obtain a good base, she seated herself by my side; I felt a renewal of gratitude and took another good look at her; she appeared excessively lean, as though she had indulged freely in non-nutritious food, with a frank countenance somewhat pinched up, as though she had been in training for a prize fight. I have an abhorrence of such women but as my education had been sadly neglected in the China department and the white man somewhat inebriated, I entered into conversation with her; the road was rough and we were shook up most terribly; had I not seen that woman take her seat, I should from her [illegible] have considered her as a fixture of the coach endowed with vitality, but I had ocular demonstration of her getting in and there she was. My inebriate friend charged three consecutive times at the fat Chinaman, which produced no other effect than three consecutive groans from John. I gathered from her broken conversation that she was from Illinois and was going to some ranch to hunt up her old man. [illegible] to say that the similarity existing between this female and a Bibby [illegible] rifle was [illegible] Wo stopped to change horses and my inebriated friend [illegible] from [illegible] Brewery, and the rapidity with which he struck a line for that [illegible] was astonishing. He was constantly dry. He called for lager [illegible] a glass [illegible] called for a second edition and started for the [illegible] to gratify himself in the extreme of [illegible] She accepted and drank. He returned and asked for a third drink that and [illegible] on a Quixotic style [illegible] that he could drink any given quantity of lager. I at once entered a demurrer denying the fact, based only on his physical structure [illegible] emphatically, and in a tone [illegible] that I had a friend in Portland [illegible] in the shortest possible time. He made no reply. He saw that I was in earnest and accepted my conditions. Stage started, and we bolted for the same; got in and at 5 o'clock, [illegible] landed at Express Ranch, a most salubrious spot for robust persons and physicians as in conversation after the proprietor informed me, that himself and family had enjoyed good health, and that they could get along first rate if it wasn't for the cussed ague and fever, which they had had for the last six months," "but," he continued, "I have about worn it out, with whisky and Hostetter's; the old woman has a hard time of it, and I am right glad you brought that woman with you, as she will take charge of things in general." Alas it was too true! She went no farther, and next morning she passed around the coffee. Such is life! She had found a home and the old man in whom she had been in quest. May he shadow never be less. Arranged for another drain on my finances and started, this time with an extra driver, open wagons, and here I would say, that I know of no place so well qualified to enlighten the traveler whether in search of knowledge or on general principles as a stage coach on which there are two or more drivers. We had a driver nearly all the way from Wallula by the name of "Joe," it was evident that the man was exhausted and could not extend much farther, or a disinclination on the "any other man" to re[illegible] to that name. Our two "Johns" were the em[illegible] of stage drivers; white hats with broad rims at right angles with the forehead, or when thrown back, obtuse; buckskin gloves, and a sort of don't care expression in general. Their conversation, no matter on what subject relates to horse and the congenial habits of that animal. In exchanging sentiments regarding some ball which they had attended, in order to refresh their minds regarding the ladies, Charley remarked "that he never saw such a gal; he went up and asked her to dance and she bucked." "Never mind that," replied his opponent, "if she did buck, she is as handsome as a spotted purp, and if I marry her I'll warrant to cure her of bucking." I have not a doubt in my mind but his efforts will be attended with success. On we go, hot, dirty, conversation lagging occasionally, but only to be renewed with fresh vigor.

"Crickets, crickets!" Did you ever see a legitimate, to the manor born cricket? If not take a trip up here; it will pay. You can make a fortune by introducing in some schottisch, redowa or lancers, the cricket step. Shoddy in New York would hail it as the step. An upward spring, either straight ahead, or a turn to the right or left when in the air. It is refreshing to behold them. They vary in size from nothing to two inches in length, and delicious when fried, to our Indian allies. They are endowed with more vitality than is beneficial to the interests of mankind in this [illegible], and are [illegible], carnivorous, omnivorous in their onward march. Vegetation falls before them. If one of their number is accidentally run over by a coach with [illegible] and eight trunks, and gets injured, his comrades, regardless of those attributes [illegible] to the good Samaritan, fall upon him and devour him. They travel by millions, laughing to scorn our national debt and him who would number them. They go anywhere and every where, in [illegible], on houses and [illegible] in your boots, pockets or hat, eating, lucifer matches with a zest that is astonishing, and [illegible] in the bowl of your meerschaum either for safety, or with the intention of smoking [illegible] They [illegible] no [illegible] as to their [illegible]. When leg weary, as they eat their onward way to bank of some river, they leap in and are wafted down to some spot more genial to their habits and where vegetation is luxuriant. It [illegible] as though nothing could [illegible] them, but a combination of circumstances antagonistical to their vitality and structure physically. No description of poultry will [illegible] with them, as they would [illegible] a riot within them. I have submerged them for five minutes in a river, and at the end of that period they surpass the "phoenix rising from its ashes," being, if possible, more active and [illegible] than ever. I send you a sketch of a [illegible] cricket, drawn from nature while in my [illegible] My next will be of Boise and Ruby City and the mines.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE STATE

WEDNESDAY MORNING, JULY 19, 1865

Capital Wanted

When we say that an increase of population in the [illegible] States and Territories is greatly needed, we wish not to be understood as insisting that this is their only want. Capital, as well as a larger population, is needed. If those who [illegible] clude to come here have capital to bring with them, both these wants of the country will be supplied. In our farming districts there is room for large accessions to our population and their coming would eventually tend to promote the wealth of the State even if they should bring little with them. They would soon become producers, thus increasing both the property of the State and the quantity of our exportable commodities. In an agricultural community labor will soon form capital sufficiently large to enable the farmer to pursue his business. In other pursuits it is different. The more profitable enterprises require capital to carry them on. All kinds of business ought to grow, and indeed must grow, together. Manufactures and internal improvements are as essential to our prosperity as farming and mining. In order to cause the growth of all those various branches of industry to be equal and uniform, there must be a sufficiency of capital to represent the whole. Precisely here is the drawback which besets us. There is no scarcity of labor, as any one may easily learn who wishes to know the true condition of things; on the contrary it is in excess of the demand. Throughout the whole country, except in the farming districts at this particular time, great numbers are unemployed. Labor is not extravagantly high—no higher, in deed, than in the East, in proportion to other commodities—and since there are known to be innumerable unattempted enterprises which invite attention, and fail to receive it only because there is a lack of means to carry them through, we must conclude that one of the greatest wants of the country is the capital required to conduct the business that, even with our present population ought now to be going on.

An increase of population and a greater abundance of labor, without capital with which to make investments in new branches of business, so as to furnish employment for those who would otherwise be idle, would not aid our people or conduce to the prosperity of the State. Scanty as our population is, many are everywhere to be found who are entirely without employment. It is difficult to name a single occupation that is not over crowded with those already engaged in it. If any one mentions that of agriculture as an exception, the answer is ready, that laborers cannot always find employment in that pursuit unless they are first possessed of sufficient means to enable them to purchase land. And this brings us again to our original proposition, that capital as well as population is greatly wanted.

In all the mining districts of this coast, the [illegible] supply of labor, or rather, the disproportion between labor and the capital which should afford it employment, is still more readily perceived than in the agricultural communities. We are told that in all our mines men are waiting for some lucky chance to enable them to push forward in the work of opening quartz ledges of known value, and that the lack of capital prevents the development of some of the richest of these sources of wealth. The profits of these enterprises, it is true, are often quite [illegible] tain, but where there is a probability of large gains, little hesitation is ever manifested in making investments, if men only have capital for that purpose. Almost all the present wealth of Nevada, is in the mines within her borders, and though their richness is assured, the work of [illegible] goes on languidly, and for no other reason than that of the absence of capital with which to prosecute the branch of industry on which the prosperity of that State depends.

Money is now held at so high rates that no one can afford to borrow capital to aid in carrying on his business. The scarcity of money is the cause of its being held at so great a premium. We shall not see all kinds of business in a flourishing condition until [illegible] more abundant and more easily obtainable. We need capital to [illegible] the labor [illegible] at [illegible], and by this [illegible] to produce more capital which shall in turn [illegible] employment to the additional labor which an [illegible] of population will give to the country.

Eastern Oregon.—The [illegible] has been anxiously [illegible] forward to by many who were desirous of exploring the almost unknown region which lies beyond the eastern slope of the Cascade mountains and stretches away to the Oregon and Idaho boundary line. It was [illegible] that the exploration of the present season would bring to light some rich mineral deposits in that quarter, especially since a very partial examination of [illegible] places throughout that country had before revealed the existence of the precious metals in such quantities as to encourage the hope that further investigation would lead to the [illegible] of great richness. It is known that within the State of Oregon there lies an expanse of almost unexplored country which, from a center some where in the highlands toward the head of John Day's river, has a radius of fully one hundred and fifty miles. Indeed but a small [illegible] of this circle, reaching toward the north [illegible] the center indicated, has been [illegible] with the scrutiny which those employ who look for [illegible] had even if the search has been made mainly for placer mines, parties often not caring, on their first tour through a wild region, to look for quartz ledges, since these are usually harder to find and always harder to work than paying placers. Many have desired eastern Oregon to be explored this summer in order to learn what its topography is, what the nature of it mountains and the course and number of its streams, what the size and character of its valleys and what its facilities for permanent settlement. Upon none of these points has any one sufficient information to speak very advisedly. A few military expeditions have traversed portions of the country we are speaking of, but beyond the knowledge thus acquired, little has been learned of a district with in the jurisdiction of our State and lying almost at [illegible] doors.

The hostility of the Indians at the present time prevents all except strong parties from venturing beyond the bounds of the large settlements. In districts already discovered, the work of mining is being prosecuted as usual, but just now there can be no enlargement of the field of this class of operations in the region where the Indians are proving so troublesome. Small bands of savages are distributed all through the country east of the Cascade Mountains seemingly in conformity with a concerted plan. Every road leading into the mining districts is infested by them. There seems to be a common purpose among all the tribes east of the mountains to engage in a general scheme of rapine and murder. This proves very annoying to our people and could have been averted had there been a regiment of cavalry at the disposal of the military authorities. These hostile acts may not however be altogether unproductive of good results since it is very likely that they will prove to the utter extermination of the miserable thieves and murderers who commit them. That maudlin sentimentality and those senseless expressions of pity for the "poor Indian" which are prompted by a spurious humanitarianism are at once put to flight when one is brought in contact with the wretches who when they thirst for blood differ from beasts of prey only in that the latter are incapable of a desire to gratify an imaginary revenge, and so are less noxious than the former. Of course it is not right to misuse these creatures or to treat them with injustice, but when they commit depredations in the manner they are now doing in the eastern part of our State, they should be treated just as other blood thirsty animals are dealt with and our only care concerning them should be to provide for their destruction.

(DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.)

DATES TO JULY 7

A Ride through Georgia, Alabama and Mississippi.

Cairo, June 29.—Grierson's cavalry arrived at Vicksburg, ending at that point a three months campaign through the States of Georgia, Alabama and Mississippi. The expedition passed through portions of Alabama and Mississippi, never before visited by hostile troops. They report the interior of these States in a most prosperous condition. They saw hundreds and thousands of bales of [illegible] which the owners were anxious to take to market. There will be a large crop of cotton this year. Thousands of acres which had been planted in [illegible] have been plowed up and cotton substituted. The crops generally were looking very fine.

Free Pardons yet Granted.

Washington, June 29.—So far only about one hundred and twenty five pardons have been granted. A number of papers for this purpose awaits the signature of the President. The only prisoners of war in the old capitol prison above the rank of captain are the rebel Major General Ed. Johnson and a Lieutenant Colonel of a Virginia regiment.

Col Ingraham has turned over to the State Department upwards of 10,000 oaths of allegiance subscribed at Washington by disloyal parties.

Military movements in the South-west.

New York, July 7.—The Tribune's New Orleans correspondent writes that Brigadier General Russel is ordered to proceed with his command to Indianola. Gen Gile, with cavalry brigade is ordered to Corpus Christi, and will rendezvous at Brazos Santiago. All the time of writing this dispatch there are at least 10,000 men of this command on board the various vessels comprising the expedition, who have been detained from landing by various causes. Some are at present in this city awaiting a supply of coal and water; others are in Mobile Bay, detained for some purpose and in order to give the officers on board an opportunity to clean up vessels and attend to the sanitary condition of the troops on board; others are detained off Brazos awaiting the arrival of lighters with which to debark the troops and necessary army material. The 5th corps arrived here a few days since from up the Mississippi river, and are in camp on the old Jackson battle ground. It is understood that they will be ordered to Texas as soon as Gen Sheridan returns from Brownsville. The concentration of troops in Texas engrosses, to a great extent, the attention of the people of this city. It is supposed the numerical strength of the force about to occupy that country, including cavalry, infantry and artillery, will be at least 85,000 effective men.

Gen. Curtis is still at Alexandria, La., on Red River organizing his cavalry corps which is expected to start overland for Houston in two columns, one from Alexandria and the other from Shreveport in two days.

The President Refuses to Pardon Mrs. Surratt.

New York, July 7.—The Post's Washington special says, Strong efforts were made this morning to induce the President to reprieve Mrs Surratt by her counsel and Roman Catholic clergymen who have acted as her spiritual advisers, but to no purpose. The President was firm in his decision. It is reported that Mrs Surratt has written a statement or confession, which has been given to her spiritual advisers.

Steamer Moravian Destroyed by Fire—Loss of Life.

Montreal, July 7.—The purser of the steamer Moravian, from Flushing for Philadelphia or New York, reports that she was destroyed by fire on the banks of New Foundland. The fire originated from a red hot bolt being put into a tar pot between decks. Most of her people were taken to St. Johns by the steamer Meteor. Four hundred people are missing. Some may have been saved in boats. A second dispatch says Capt Acton of the Moravian gives the following statement to the Associated Press. A boat at Cape Race reported the steamer Fillmore, belonging to D A Stewart, arrived at St. Johns on Friday with forty passengers and the crew of the steamer Moravian, taken from the burning wreck on the banks of New Foundland. The Moravian sailed from Flushing for New York, with German emigrants on board. Before they reached the vessel all the boats had put off with all the passengers and crew, but none of the boats had been heard of, as far as Captain Acton could learn. There were upward of four hundred passengers on board when the vessel sailed.

Governor Bramlette and the Constitutional Amendment.

Louisville, June 29.—Governor Bramlette addressed the citizens this evening in favor of the Constitutional Amendment, and the advantages of free over slave labor in Kentucky. He said slavery was utterly overthrown, and proved the impossibility of its restoration, and urged the people to proceed to establish and sustain free labor as dictated by wisdom and interest. He showed by statistics of population and the occupation of lands by slave holders and non slave holders, that the rich lands of the State were in the hands of a class exceedingly small in comparison with the popular mass, and urged the organization of the free white laborers of the State to take care in future of their own interests. He said a necessity existed for immediate action by Kentucky, in disposing of this vexed question of slavery. The progress of events having practically destroyed the institution itself. He discussed at length, the section of the amendment with overwhelming power. The objection urged against it was, that the amendment gives Congress power to confer the elective franchise on emancipated slaves, thus putting them on social equality with the whites. He said the second section gives Congress no more power than it has under the Constitution now existing. It meant simply that Congress should by appropriation or necessary legislation, prohibit slavery or involuntary servitude in the States.

Mexican News.

Cairo, June 29.—An arrival from New Orleans brings Matamoras dates to June 15th. The defeat of Negrete after his unsuccessful attempt on Matamoras is confirmed. He suffered a loss of 700 killed and 2,000 prisoners.

The Matamoras Commerce asserts that Juarez is buying up all the old arms in the United States. There are plenty of goods at Matamoras waiting a market.

The Commerce reports that the ex-President of the Republic of Mexico was compelled to fly to Paso del Norte, escorted by Corvasalles Quesda with some cavalry, on the approach of the troops under General Aymard who occupied Chihuahua. There had been some shooting from the left to the right bank of the river, in which the Surgeon in Chief on the Staff of Gen Mejia who was at Santa Cruz near the landing from Brownsville, came near being killed by the shots fired. It is ascertained by sentinels stationed on the Brownsville side. It is asserted that ten American soldiers were engaged in the attack which was deliberately and wantonly made. It is also asserted that though Mejia made an immediate reclamation on the subject no reply as yet has been made by General Brown.

Twelve or fifteen men recently broke into the State Treasury building at Austin, Texas, and broke open the safes, robbing them of thirteen thousand dollars in gold and leaving the silver. They were unable to get into the vault where most of the treasure was kept.

The New Orleans Times denies the report that the cholera or yellow fever has appeared in that city this season.

A loyal meeting was held at Houston, Texas, June 13th, at which most of the prominent men of the State participated. A series of resolutions of the most loyal character were drawn up and unanimously adopted.

Ten steamers filled with soldiers belonging to the fifteenth army corps, passed to-day en route for Duvall's Bluffs, Ark.

Shreveport, La., advices of June 11th state that the quantity of cotton lately taken to New Orleans via Red River, is variously estimated from 50 to 150,000 bales. Next year's crop will be small but very little has been planted.

Cairo, June 28.—A Vera Cruz letter of June 1st states that the rebels still continue to flock to Mexico. No doubt Gwin will get his project through. It is thought it only awaits the signature of Mexico to become a law. He goes out as Director General of emigration for the States of Sonora, Chihuahua, Durango and Tamaulipas with extraordinary powers and 800 French troops to back him. The emigration is to be strictly Southern. 10,000 Confederates are to be armed and paid by the Empire, but kept in the above mentioned States as a protection to emigrants.

Captain Page and the officers of the Stonewall have gone to Mexico to offer their services to the Empire and persuade the Government to purchase the ram Stonewall. The French Admiral goes with them for the same purpose. He declares that with the ram he can defend the Mexican coast against the whole American navy.

San Francisco, July 18.—The Pacific warehouse, corner Broadway and Battery, caught fire at 11:30 o'clock last night and the entire structure was destroyed. The loss on goods and the building is above $250,000. Stanford Bro's had $50,000 worth of oil stored at the time in the building. They were mostly insured. Most of the goods destroyed belonged to importers, who were in the majority of cases insured, the heavy est loss falling on the owners of small lots of merchandise, who failed to effect insurance. The warehouse was the property of W. S. Clark, for which [illegible] insured for [illegible] have been [illegible] tain. It has lately been occupied by Stanford and Coursault as lessees. The loss [illegible] have been caused by spontaneous combustion arising from the storage of [illegible] oil.

U. S. 7-30 LOAN!

BY AUTHORITY OF THE SECRETARY OF THE Treasury, the undersigned has assumed the General Subscription Agency for the sale of United States Treasury Notes, bearing seven and three-tenths per cent. interest per annum, known as the SEVEN-THIRTY LOAN.

These Notes are issued under date June 15th, 1865, and are payable three years from that time, in currency, or are convertible at the option of the holder into

U S 5-20 Six per cent

Gold Bearing Bonds.

These bonds are now worth a premium of nine per cent including gold interest from November, which makes the actual profit on the 7-30 loan at current rates, including interest, about ten per cent per annum, besides its exemption from State and municipal taxation, which adds from one to three per cent more, according to the rate levied on other property. The interest is payable in currency semi-annually by coupons attached to each note, which may be cut off and sold to any bank or banker.

The interest amounts to

One cent per day on a $50 note

Two cents " " $100 "

Ten " " " $500 "

20 " " " $1000 "

$1 " " " $5000 "

Notes of all denominations named will be promptly furnished upon receipt of subscriptions. This is now offered by the Government, and it is confidently expected that its superior advantages will make it the GREAT POPULAR LOAN Of the People!

THE ONLY LOAN IN MARKET

Less than $300,000,000 of the Loan authorized by the last Congress are now on the market.

This amount, at the rate at which it is being absorbed, will all be subscribed for within four months, when the notes will undoubtedly command a premium, as has uniformly been the case on closing the subscriptions to other Loans.

In order that citizens of every town and section of the country may be afforded facilities for taking the Loan, the National Banks, State Banks and Private Bankers throughout the country have generally agreed to receive subscriptions at par. Subscribers will select their own agents in whom they have confidence, and who only are to be responsible for the delivery of the notes for which they receive orders.

SHORT SIGHTED POLICY NOT ALWAYS BEST.—The interior papers of California, have been running against the short sighted policy of San Francisco, to build herself up at the expense of the prosperity of the State. The Marysville Independent thinks that San Francisco sees her error now, and is beginning to repent. In an able review of the situation, as discussed one year ago, says it was ... went unchallenged by the commercial press at the time, and it is worthy of remark now, that since that time the merchants of Portland are continuing to 'transact' the business of their own importations direct from the East, as not to be dependent, as heretofore, on San Francisco; they thinking that if money is to be made by exchanging for currency at the East and selling for gold on this coast, the profits of the trade had as well go to the Portlanders as to the San Francisco merchants. The effect of the idea is perfectly practicable; it will cut San Francisco off entirely from the Oregon and Idaho trade ... that city connects herself by railway with ... and the shortest land routes to the Idaho country. Portland is satisfied this summer in the feasibility of penetrating by steamers, up Snake river, to the edge of Western Idaho. This, with the other great advantages of the Columbia river, gives Portland the whole of the trade of Washington, Oregon and half at least of Idaho. The very most that San Francisco can hope now to do is, by the rapid progress of the Pacific Railway eastward, to monopolize Nevada, Eastern Idaho, Utah and the Western division of Montana. Whatever there is east of the Rocky Mountains, Chicago will take good care of; and if we are not in haste her railway spoils will touch Fort Benton before ours reaches the summit of the Sierra Nevadas." Truth was never more plainly expressed, and the Bulletin sees the example of Chicago before them, which enabled that city to make her position in a few years second in the scale of American cities, which by her system of enterprise in assisting the interior. The ... on the same subject says: "Let the metropolis become as rich as it may desire, but if it impoverish the ... wealth in doing so, its vitality becomes jeopardized." What can we say of Portland? We believe the leading interests of this city demand the opening of all avenues for trade—we favor the building of wagon roads, rail roads, and the establishment of steamboat communication wherever possible. The past three years demonstrate the confidence of our capitalists in the country ... the coast which can show more substantial work than ... in what has been done. And we are firmly confident that money will continue to be invested in that way. That steam communication will be established ... season between the mouth of Powder river and ... far up on Snake river, we have not the least doubt, and the establishment of a fast freight line of ... some point on the Columbia to connect with such communication, will form a very desirable link in the progressive chain for one year, and enable us to be ... of what may follow in the succeeding season.

INTERNAL REVENUE DECISION.—In answer to the inquiry as to the tax on dress-making, Mr. J. J. Stewart, Assessor of the third district has learned from the Deputy Commissioner of Internal Revenue, that when the amount of manufactured does not exceed $1,000 per annum, it is exempt from taxation; when the amount is in excess the above sum they are liable to a duty of six per cent. ad valorem on the entire amount of their manufacture.

The Journal is alarmed for fear that the call is made with the view of removing the disability imposed ... those who have been identified with the rebellion, and ... them to the elective franchise and the right to hold office. There is no certainty, however, that ... is the object. Owing to the alleged appointment of ... of several ex-rebels to important positions ... of the Constitution, several meetings have been held by the loyal people of Alexandria to devise means for self-protection. On Saturday they perfected ... organization, and adopted a series of resolutions, ... which affirms, in strong terms, the right of the ... man to vote.

OIL IN CALIFORNIA.—"Prospecting" for oil is going on briskly in California. Notwithstanding the adverse reports which came from there a few months ago, it appears that "operations in oil" now promise well. The San Francisco Call of the 8th inst. has the subjoined account of a recent oil discovery in Humboldt county:

Capt. Smith, of the bark Jeannette, who arrived from Humboldt Bay last evening, reports that the Union Mattole Petroleum Company, of Humboldt county, five days ago struck oil in such quantities that it flowed out over the top of the well so fast that it was impossible to preserve it, and the workmen were compelled to plug up the well to keep the oil from running to waste, there being no barrels or utensils for saving the oil on the ground. This is the well from which one hundred and twenty gallons of oil was brought to this city a short time since. That oil was found at a depth of less than one hundred feet, and for a time work was suspended on the well. Operations were then resumed, and at the depth of one hundred and forty five feet the body of oil as stated above was struck. This decisive success in oil operations may be justly hailed as marking a new era in the progress of the State, as it is without doubt the forerunner of a new and extensive business and source of wealth. The Union Mattole Company property is mostly owned in this city.

Another account confirms the above and adds that the flow of oil was so strong that it burst out of the mouth of the well to the height of eight feet.

TOUCHING LETTER.—The Masonic Lodge No. 330, of New York, of which Edwin Booth is a member, lately addressed him a letter of fraternal feeling, to which letter Mr. Booth replied as follows:

No. 28 EAST 19TH STREET.

BROTHERS.—Your fraternal and consoling letter has come to me at the hour of my greatest need." It is comforting, amid the darkness which surrounds my present and my future. If there can be compensation for such a calamity as has overtaken me, it is to be found in the sentiments you so gracefully express, and as I believe, sincerely entertain for me. I thank you, brothers, for the great relief your cheering words convey. It has pleased God to afflict my family as no other ever was afflicted. The nature, manner, and extent of the crime which is laid at our door, have crushed me to the very earth. My detestation and abhorrence of the act, in all its attributes, are inexpressible; my grief is unutterable, and were it not for the sympathy of friends such as you, it would be intolerable. You bear witness to my loyalty, you know my persistent and to some extent successful efforts to elevate our name personally and professionally. For a proof of this, I appeal the records of the past. For the future, also, I shall struggle on in my retirement, bearing a heavy heart, an oppressed memory, and a wounded name—dreadful burdens to my welcome grave.

Your afflicted friend and brother.
EDWIN BOOTH.

THE POLICY OF PRESIDENT JOHNSON INDORSED BY THE DEMOCRATS.—The National Democratic General Committee of Kings county, at a regular meeting held on Tuesday night, indorsed the policy of President Johnson as far as indicated in regard to the Southern States, and pledged him their earnest support in the restoration of peace and the Jacksonian Democratic policy in the administration of the Government. They suggested that all former prejudices among Democrats should now be set aside, and the best efforts used to bring about a national united brotherhood from Maine to California.—New York Tribune, June 9th.

A FINE THING FOR THE TEETH.—The fragrant SOZODONT appears to have taken a very prominent place among the most approved dentifrices of the day. It is a very popular article for the toilet, highly recommended by all who have used it as a beautifier and preserver of the teeth, refreshing the mouth, sweetening the breath, arresting the progress of decay, and otherwise benefiting the user.—Boston Traveler.

The Willamette Valley and Cascade Mountain Wagon Road Company held their annual election at their office in Lebanon, on the 8th inst., and elected for Directors, J. Norcross, W. W. Parrish, and A. W. Coleman, Albany, L. Elkins and Wm. Beaver, Lebanon; Jason Wheeler, Santiam; and A. C. Hadreman, Brownsville.—Albany Journal.

MARRIED:

At the residence of Mr. Moore, Esq., of Hillsboro, July 13th, by Rev. Henry Sewell, Mr. Hezekiah S. Quick, of Portland, and Miss Sarah Jane Moore, of Washington county, Oregon.

DIED:

On the 2d day of July, 1865, at the house of her brother, J. S. Johnson, near Legrande, Tabitha The..., daughter of Rev. Neill Johnson, of Auburn, aged seventeen years, four months, and ten days. The deceased was born in Fairfield, Laxewell county, Illinois; came with her parents to Oregon in 1851, and left this world with a "sure confidence of a glorious immortality." Her last words were "Jesus died for me."

Brandreth's Pills—Their Qualities.—In small and repeated doses the effect of Brandreth's Vegetable Universal Pills is to increase the activity of the secreting and excreting organs. The alvine discharged becomes more liquid and contains a larger proportion of bile. The operation of this extraordinary medicine does not stop here; the membranes of the lungs, of the eyes, and all the membranes become moister; the skin becomes damper and at the same time warmer where too cool, and cooler if too warm. So that Brandreth's Pills seem to vitalize and promote excretion generally. In large doses, say from five to ten Pills, they act as a powerful purgative, clearing the bowels first of their contents, and then acting upon the internal organs, clearing them of slime, mucus, or any concretions not required for their healthy action. Thus the action of Brandreth's Pills is what is required to bring about that state in all the organs which result in their full restoration to health. The blood ..., as well as the blood, are thus restored to perfect purity and vigor.

WISTAR'S BALSAM

—OF—

WILD CHERRY!

HAS BEEN USED FOR NEARLY

HALF A CENTURY,

WITH THE MOST ASTONISHING SUCCESS IN CURING

Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Sore Throat, Influenza, Whooping Cough, Croup, Liver Complaint, Bronchitis, Difficulty of Breathing, Asthma, and every Affection of the

THROAT, LUNGS, AND CHEST,

INCLUDING EVEN

CONSUMPTION.

There is scarcely one individual in the community who wholly escapes, during a season, from some one, however slightly developed, of the above symptoms—a neglect of which might lead to the last named, and most to be dreaded disease in the whole catalogue. The power of "medicinal gum" of the Wild Cherry Tree over this class of complaints is well known; so great is the good it has performed, and so great the popularity it has acquired.

In this preparation, besides the virtues of the Cherry, there are combined with it other ingredients of like value, thus increasing its value ten-fold, and forming a Remedy whose power to soothe, to heal, to relieve, and to cure disease, exists in no other medicine yet discovered.

The unqualified success, attending the use of this ... in all cases of ...

... has induced many ... of high ... to ... it in their practice, ... under their own ... We have space only for the names of a few of these:—

S. H. FINLEY, M. D., San Francisco, Cal.
E. BOYDEN, M. D., Exeter, Me.
ABRAHAM SKILLMAN, M. D., China, Me.
R. FESSENDEN, M. D., Hill, N. H.

W. B. LYMAN, M. D., Auburn, N. Y.
ABRAHAM SKILLMAN, M. D., Bound Brook, N. J.
H. D. MARTIN, M. D., Mansfield, Pa.

The proprietors have letters from all classes of our fellow citizens, from the halls of Congress to the humblest cottage, and even from beyond the seas; for the fame and virtue of WISTAR'S BALSAM have extended to the uttermost bounds of the earth, without any effort on our part to introduce it beyond the limits of our country.

IN CAUTION AND NOTICE.

After Oct. 1, 1865, all genuine WISTAR'S BALSAM of WILD CHERRY, for the Pacific Coast, will be put in a new style bottle, which will bear the printed names of both SETH W. FOWLE & Co., Boston, Mass., and JOHN D. PARK, Cincinnati, Ohio, as well as fac-simile of the signatures of "SETH W. FOWLE & PARK," and "H. WISTAR, M. D."

Trial of the Assassins—Burning of Steamboats and Hospitals

A dispatch dated at Washington June [illegible] gives the following as the only important evidence elicited since the last advices. It relates to steamboat burning and explosions:

EXAMINATION OF EDWARD FRAZER

By Judge A[illegible]—State where you reside. A—I reside in St. Louis and have resided there eight or nine years.

Q—[illegible] that within the last year or [illegible] there [illegible] extensive burnings of steamboats on the Western and Southern waters; state to the Court your knowledge [illegible] organization [illegible] who were engaged in that [illegible] who they were. A—A man by the name of [illegible] was one. Minor Mayers was another.

Q—Is he a Missourian? A—Yes sir.

Q—Was he in the service of the United States? A—Yes, sir. Thomas L. Clark was another. A man by the name of Barrett was another.

Q—They were all agents of the Confederate Government, so called? A—Yes sir.

Q—State what business they were engaged in? A—Burning steamboats on the Mississippi, Ohio and other rivers.

Q—Was the man Barrett, of whom you speak [illegible] had he ever been a member of Congress? A—I could not say. I have heard him called Col. Barrett.

Q—State how these men were associated together and what were their operations. A—Their operations consisted in burning steamboats carrying Government freights—boats that were used as army transports and some that were not so used.

Q—Do you know by means of what combustible material those steamboats were burned? A—No, sir, I suppose it was done by matches.

Q—Will you enumerate the boats that were burned by the operations of these parties? A—The steamboat Imperial and Robert Campbell, the steamer Daniel D. Taylor and others were burned at Louisville; three or four boats burned at New Orleans, but I do not recollect their names.

Q—Were they large vessels? A—Some were large and some were small. They were owned by private parties.

Q—Was there any loss of life connected with the destruction of those vessels? A—There was on the Robert Campbell.

Q—Were they burned in the stream or while lying near the shore? A—The Robert Campbell was burned in the stream while under way.

Q—Was it understood that the agent was on board, or that he had merely deposited combustible material in the vessel? A—He was on board.

Q—Where was that vessel burned? A—At Milliken's Bend, twenty five miles above Vicksburg.

Q—Was there considerable loss of life? A—Yes, sir.

Q—State whether this plan of operations embraced the destruction of the Government hospitals and storehouses. A—It embraced everything appertaining to the army.

Q—Do you know the man who claimed compensation from the Confederate Government for that service? A—His name was Dillingham.

Q—What amount did he claim? A—He did not put any amount; he just put in a statement.

Q—To Richmond. A—Yes, sir.

Q—At what time was that hospital burned? A—In June or July 1864. The fire occurred at night. I did not hear of any person being burned.

Q—State whether or not you have been at Richmond. A—I have.

Q—Did you when there have an interview with Jefferson Davis, the so-called President of the Confederacy, and with Benjamin, the Secretary of State? A—I was in Richmond from the 20th to the 25th day of August 1864, and then had an interview with the Secretary of State, Secretary of War and Jefferson Davis.

Q—State what occurred at that interview. A—Thomas L. Clark, Dillingham and myself went there in connection with boat-burning, and put in claims to James A. Seddon, to whom I was introduced by Clark. Seddon said he had thrown up that business, and that it was now in the hands of Benjamin. We went to Benjamin and presented our papers to him. He looked at the papers and asked me whether I was in St. Louis. I told him I was. He asked me if I knew anything about the papers. I told him I did; that I believed they were right. He then asked Clark if he knew me to be right. Clark said that I had been represented to him by Mayers as being all right. He told us to call again the next day with Clark and Dillingham; that he had [illegible] the papers I had left to Jeff Davis, and he wanted to know whether we would not take $30,000 and sign a receipt in full. We told him we would not do it. Well, he said, then if Dillingham was to claim this thing at Louisville, he wanted a statement of that thing. We went back to the hotel and I wrote out a statement myself. It read that Dillingham had been hired by [illegible] Polk and sent to Louisville to do that work.

Q—To burn the hospitals? A—Yes, sir; and I signed Dillingham's name to it; that was given to Clark. Clark took it over to Benjamin and made a settlement with him for $50,000; $35,000 down in gold, and $15,000 on deposit [illegible] paid him four months afterward, provided these [illegible] proved correct, he gave us a draft on Columbia [illegible] the $34,900 and $200 in gold in Richmond. The draft we got [illegible] in Columbia, and brought the money along with me.

Q—You received the gold on that day, did you? A—Yes, sir; while there Benjamin said that Davis wanted to see me; I went in; Davis, Benjamin and myself sat and talked, the conversation turned on a bridge between Nashville and Chattanooga [illegible] the "Long Bridge," they called it; Benjamin mentioned it first, I believe. Davis asked me if I knew where it was. I told him I did; but I had not; I never had been there; he said he wanted to [illegible] what I thought about destroying that bridge; that they had been thinking about having it destroyed. I told him I did not know what to think about it. He said I had better study it over. I finally told him I thought it could be done, and Benjamin—I think it was Benjamin—made the remark that he would give $400,000 if that bridge was destroyed, and wanted to know if I would not take charge of this matter. I told him I would not have anything to do with it [illegible] the papers were taken away from these [illegible] there, and that [illegible] should be allowed to [illegible] up any more. They said it [illegible] be done. Then the conversation turned on the burning of steamboats. I told Davis that I did not think it of any use to burn [illegible] boats, and he said he was going to have that stopped. I then told him the best way to stop it would be to take these [illegible] away from these men he had there immediately; that there were men lying about the South whose papers would run out, and that they would come back to get them renewed, and that it ought not to be done. [illegible]

Q—These papers were [illegible] or authority to do this work, were they? A—Yes, sir.

Q—He knew that you had received this pay for the work done? A—I presume he did; he knew that I had [illegible] money.

Q—[illegible] you made out were statements of the work done and the [illegible] claimed? A—Yes sir.

Q—What was the [illegible] A—Fifty [illegible] dollars; he wanted to pay us, at first, thirty [illegible] in greenbacks.

Q—[illegible] the opinion to Davis that no good [illegible] burning their boats in that [illegible] A—I did.

Q—And he said he was going to abandon that policy? A—He did.

Q—[illegible] what had been done? A—He [illegible] what had been done.

Q—He knew what had been done? A—He appeared [illegible]

Q—[illegible] you come to any understanding about rates in [illegible] the bridge? A—We came to [illegible] that we were to receive $400,000 for doing it. I asked Davis whether it made any [illegible] where the work was done; he said it did not [illegible] would do, that it would include anything pertaining to [illegible] stores for the army, and that it ought to be as near to [illegible] as possible; that Sherman [illegible] man who was doing them more harm than any one [illegible] that time.

Q—These men whom you have [illegible] Barrett and [illegible] were in the Confederate service? A—Yes, sir.

Q—Do you know where Minor Mayers is now? A—I have every reason to believe that he was in Canada, and [illegible] there and went to Bermuda [illegible] that [illegible] last heard from him.

Q—[illegible] all these men were members [illegible] A—They [illegible]

Washington, June 14th.—The assassination trial drags its slow length along, and now bids fair to occupy the attention of the Commission for two weeks longer. The defendants issued subpenas this evening for fourteen additional witnesses, and the Government has in reserve eight or ten yet to be put upon the stand as testimony in chief so that it is not probable that the evidence will be closed before the latter part of this week. As directly affecting the prisoners, there was no testimony introduced to day save that of a witness on behalf of O'Laughlin, who testified that the prisoner was in his company all the evening on the 14th of April, and that they were not at the house of Secretary Stanton on that night. This witness has known O'Laughlin intimately for several years. He is a reputable witness and his evidence is of the utmost importance to the prisoner as it throws doubt upon the testimony of the Government witnesses, who were not acquainted with O'Laughlin, and could not be positive in their identity of the accused when they testified that they saw him hanging about the door of the dwelling on the night of the illumination, apparently watching the movements of General Grant, who was that evening the guest of Stanton. Giving the prisoner the benefit of this testimony, and of the doubt which by the rule of law should be resolved in his favor, he yet stands clearly convicted of complicity with Booth in his conspiracy as it existed but a short time prior to the assassination.

EXAMINATION OF ASSISTANT ADJUTANT GENERAL E. D. TOWNSEND

By Judge Advocate Holt. Q—State whether you are acquainted with [illegible] Rains, a Brigadier General in the rebel military service. A—I was very well acquainted with [illegible] Rains, who in 1861 resigned his commission [illegible] Fifth Regular United States Infantry.

Q—[illegible] with his handwriting. A—Yes, sir.

Q—Look at that last document and state whether you believe it to be in his handwriting, [illegible] A—To the best of my knowledge and belief it is.

The paper referred to was given in evidence without objection. It is dated December 1st, 1864 and is addressed to Captain Z. McDaniel, commanding Torpedo Company, and signed by Maxwell. It sets forth in substance that according to the orders of the person to whom it is addressed, and with the means and equipment furnished by him, the writer left Richmond on the 26th of July, 1864, for the lines of the James river to operate with the [illegible] against the enemy's vessels navigating that river. The writer was accompanied by R. K. Dillard, whose services were engaged for the expedition. After [illegible] these two men reached City Point before daybreak on the 9th of August last, and the writer [illegible] He carried it aboard. [illegible] The [illegible] contained twelve pounds of powder. Retiring, my companion and I retired to a safe distance to witness the effect of an effort. In about an hour the explosion occurred. The effect was communicated to another barge beside the one operated upon, and also a large wharf building containing the enemy's stores, which was totally destroyed. [illegible] I am thankful [illegible] that we have both escaped with our lives. [illegible] papers which [illegible] the estimate of the [illegible] of the blast. The enemy estimated the loss [illegible] killed and [illegible] wounded, but we have reason to [illegible] estimated at $4,000,000. [illegible] give no exact account of its extent.

THE OREGON FARMER

STATE FAIR IN OCTOBER, 186[illegible]

PREMIUMS FOR POULTRY.—The Agricultural Society offer premiums for a great variety of poultry. We apprehend that there are very few varieties of dunghill fowl of home breeds in Oregon. Poultry is an important and valuable industrial branch of farming. The census returns would surprise almost any one of the amount and value. A limited quantity of poultry can be raised by the farmer at comparatively no expense. They pick up wasted grain and insects and rarely require to be furnished with food when these sources of food are at hand. The raising of fowls is profitable. A single hen will pay for the newspaper a year. Fowls and eggs are a healthy and most desirable food for man.

Committee—[illegible] Smith, Salem, Superintendent of [illegible]—Dennis, Corvallis, Benton county; Hiram Smith, Multnomah county; Wm. Vaughn, Lane county; [illegible] Willamette Forks P. O.

The dorkings are large fowls, lay few eggs, and have as a peculiarity, an extra toe. The black Spanish are good layers. The Polands are excellent layers and seldom desire to set—a kind of fowl very desirable to be kept in towns where eggs are the object of keeping fowls. The Chinese, Shanghai, Brahma Pootra and Cochin China are varieties of one stock of fowls; they are large, quiet, too lazy to forage for themselves, and require large amounts of food. Crossed on common dunghill fowls they increase the size of the grades—breeds—which make good birds for the table and good layers and mothers for chickens. Bolton Grays, sometimes called Hamburg Grays and Cosoles, are a small sized fowls, very quiet, and great layers. Our experience is that they are even better layers than the Poland, and like them are little inclined to setting or raising broods of chickens. The varieties of bantams are all beautiful and interesting—lay a good many eggs. Their bodies however are very small and the breed is not likely to be kept up for the table. The cocks, which can scarcely in their proudest strut raise their heads above six or ten inches high, will not hesitate to attack the largest fowls.

Persons acquainted with the proper measures of taking care of the young of turkeys can make the raising of them profitable. They always bring good prices in market. The books mention several varieties but they all have originated from the wild native stock found east of the Rocky Mountains.

Geese and ducks are raised by some of our farmers. We suspect the common are most hardy and probably are quite as good as the others for their flesh and feathers. We have little knowledge of other varieties in Oregon. We apprehend that the raising of ducks is a business of amusement more than profit; and we might properly make the same remark in regard to pea fowls, long-eared rabbits and canary birds. It is a pleasure to see them—to rear them—and why should not this taste be indulged.

ALLEN'S
LUNG BALSAM!
The Remedy for Curing
CONSUMPTION, COUGHS, COLDS,
Asthma, Croup,
Diseases of the Throat, Bronchitis, Pains and Oppression of the Chest and Lungs, Difficult Breathing and all the Diseases of the Pulmonary Organs.

ITS ACTION IS EXPECTORANT, ALTERATIVE, SUDORIFIC, SEDATIVE, DIAPHORETIC AND DIURETIC, which renders it one of the most valuable remedies known for curing diseases of the lungs. It excites expectoration, and causes the lungs to throw off the phlegm or mucus; CHANGES THE SECRETIONS AND PURIFIES THE BLOOD; heals the irritated parts; gives strength to the digestive organs; brings the liver to its proper action, and imparts strength to the whole system. Such is the immediate and satisfactory effect, that it is WARRANTED TO BREAK UP THE MOST DISTRESSING COUGH IN A FEW HOURS' TIME, if not of too long standing. IT IS WARRANTED to give entire satisfaction even in the MOST CONFIRMED CASES OF CONSUMPTION. IT IS WARRANTED NOT to produce costiveness (which is the case with most remedies) or affect the head, as it contains no Opium in any form. IT IS WARRANTED TO BE PERFECTLY HARMLESS to the most delicate child, although it is an active and powerful remedy for restoring the system. THERE IS NO REAL NECESSITY FOR SO MANY DEATHS BY CONSUMPTION when ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM will prevent it if only taken in time.

Sold by all Druggists. Price $1 per bottle.

LILLIE'S LOCK OPENED
In One Minute.

NEW YORK, September 2, 1864.
F. TILLMAN, Esq., 218 Battery street,
Between Commercial and Clay, San Francisco.

DEAR SIR; WE NOTICE AN ADvertisement in your daily papers respecting the "capability" of the Lillie lock. We are aware that you well understand this lock, and, of course, will not allow yourself to be annoyed by such representations. We have just sent for one of our men at the factory, and he in our presence opened one of Lillie's best safe locks after it had been locked and the [illegible] turned on.

By One Blow of the Hammer

Against the knob on the outside, and thereby breaking the cast [illegible] fell inside.

The whole time occupied in opening the lock was about ONE MINUTE. We send you this lock that your friends may not be deceived by false representations, etc.

GLOUCESTER, March 20, 1864.
Messrs. TILTON & McFARLAND,
Safe Manufacturers, Boston, Mass.
Gentlemen—From representations made by Mr. Lillie, I was induced to purchase of him one of his

So Called "Fire Proof Safes."

On the 18th of February last, a fire occurred in our block which destroyed a number of buildings, and our own with the rest. We trusted our books, papers and all in the safe. After the fire the so called "safe" was taken from the ruins, and on opening it we found that Everything had been Destroyed.

We send you the safe with what is left of the papers, and you will see that not one of them is legible or strong enough to sustain its own weight. Having the curiosity to know how our neighbors fared in this fire, we noticed McKenzie & Hardy just opening their safe (TILTON & McFARLAND'S make) and its contents were found to be

In Perfect Condition.

This led us to further investigation, and we found to our astonishment that from the large amount of combustible material in Messrs. McK. & H.'s cellar—such as beef, pork, etc., their safe was subjected to a much greater heat than that of our own, we being in the clothing business and had but little in the cellar. There was another of Lillie's safes here subjected to the same fire, faring, however, no better than ours.
Very respectfully,
Your obedient servants,
(Signed) GEO. L. CHESBORO & CO

TO THE UNFORTUNATE.
NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES!

Dr Gibbon's Dispensary,

617 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

DR. GIBBON has the pleasure of [illegible] that he has returned to this State, after an absence of one year, during which time he has visited all the principal hospitals of Europe, among them those of Dublin, London and Paris. The following celebrated hospitals of London are among those visited by the Doctor: Guy's, High street, Borough; St. Bartholomew's, Smithfield; St. Mary's, Cambridge Place, Paddington; Lock, Harrow road; St. Luke's, Old street; University, [illegible]; Broad Sanctuary; Charing Cross, Agar street, Strand; London, Whitechapel road; Royal Free, Gray's Inn road; King's College, Portugal street.

DOCTOR GIBBON has also visited Doctors Acton of London, Parker of Birmingham, [illegible] and Ricord of Paris; who are considered the best physicians and surgeons in the world, and whose authority is acknowledged to be the highest in the treatment of Sexual Diseases.

DOCTOR GIBBON has obtained from them their new mode of treatment which cannot be [illegible]

DOCTOR GIBBON has spared neither time nor money in [illegible] with new facilities for the alleviation of [illegible] suffering.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgence, or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life-destroying [illegible] that they are cured for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private disease his [illegible] study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretenders [illegible] their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practised by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing, with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania, and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and efficient mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Doctor Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions for use, for Ten Dollars, sent in registered letter, or through Wells, Fargo & Co.

Prevention Better than Cure.

The newly invented Patent French Safe, a sure Preventive against Disease and Pregnancy, sent by mail. Price $2. Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 617 Kearney St., near Commercial, San Francisco. Postoffice Box 252.

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders who, with bogus sworn to certificates, dupe the unwary. Some of the self styled doctors, whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco, are tradesmen, and became too lazy to work at their trades. Some are dismissed shoemakers, news paper carriers, intelligence office keepers, etc. Look over the San Francisco Directories and you will not find their Medical Institutes in it, but you will find their former occupations in it. Look at the Directory for 1862 and 1863. The only way to avoid imposition is to make inquiry—it will cost you nothing and may save you many regrets, for as advertising physicians, in eight cases out of ten are bogus, there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Doctor Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus titles, certificates, pretended patients, letters etc. Doctor Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his office of his ability to cure diseases that he professes to cure.
